

OSIRIS@GTC: MOS at multiplex ≈ 250

A. Fernández-Soto^{1,2}, J. Bland-Hawthorn³, R. Carballo-Fidalgo⁴, A. Ederoclite⁵, J. I. González-Serrano¹, L. Nieves Seoane^{1,6}, and M. Sánchez-Portal⁷

¹ Instituto de Física de Cantabria (CSIC-UC), Santander, Spain

² Unidad Asociada Observatori Astronòmic (IFCA-UV), Valencia, Spain

³ Institute of Astronomy, School of Physics, University of Sydney, Australia

⁴ Dpto. de Matemática Aplicada y Ciencias de la Computación (UC), Santander, Spain

⁵ Centro de Estudios de Física del Cosmos de Aragón, Teruel, Spain

⁶ Observatori Astronòmic de la Universitat de València (UV), Spain

⁷ ESA European Space Astronomy Centre, Madrid, Spain

Abstract

We present preliminary results of an OSIRIS Guaranteed Time proposal aimed at checking the feasibility of combining microslits and order sorter filters to increase the multiplexing capabilities of OSIRIS@GTC up to $N \simeq 250$ over a small wavelength range.

Acknowledgments

AFS acknowledges support from the Spanish Ministry for Economy and Competitiveness and FEDER funds through grants AYA2010-22111-C03-02 and AYA2013-48623-C2-2, and Generalitat Valenciana project PROMETEOII/2014/060.